

Share our story

We are going to capture your interest and inspire your mind. Tourism NT wants to encourage local writers and photographers to share their story through words and pictures and we've found three leaders in their field to provide the motivation.

Renowned travel writer and author James Jeffrey, Sydney-based freelance journalist Annabel McGilvray and photojournalist Ewen Bell will reveal the secrets of their success and impart wisdom of the careers that have shaped their lives.

Join the heady, creative and exotic world which blends exploration, discovery and adventure with writing and photography.
